Rotary Club Meeting Next Monday Night

The regular Club Meeting will be held in the United Church, next Monday, October 21st, with luncheon at 6.30, and by the way we are having a duck supper, if that means any thing to you.

The speaker of the evening will be H. Ostlund, of Lethbridge, who will speak on "Impressions on My Trip to Mexico." This topic should be very interesting and Mr. Ostlund is always an interesting and entertaining speaker.

Don't forget the time and place. President Lambert wants 100% attendance at this meeting.

NEWS NOTES

Hoaglin, the sign painter was in Raymond Monday.

Hon. Vincent Massey is mentioned for the position of Canadian Commissioner to London succeeding Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, who has resigned.

Ralph Bros. were unloading a car of lumber this week for the Merc. Last week they exercised on a car of cement.

Ben. Kenney is building a new home between June Anderson's and Melvin King's homes, having sold his old place to Jas. Meek.

"LES MISETABLES" is an outstanding attraction. One that everybody should see. It is showing at the Capitol Tonight and Saturday. See it.

Overcast skies with a chill wind Monday looked favorable for now. The skies cleared, however, in the afternoon and the weather warmed up quite nicely.

Waldo Tollestrup of the Canadian Utilities staff here has been transferred to Vegreville, and left for his new post last week.

Several local Rotarians were out Thursday evening after ducks for the Rotary Luncheon on Monday evening. We didn't hear how they made out.

Melvin Godfrey of Magrath was a business visitor Thursday. He is building a new movie theatre in Picture Butte now.

None of the persons whose name were drawn for prizes Wednesday night were in the Theatre, and $60 will be given away next week.

Don't leave your Christmas cards any later. Order now for delivery any time you name. You get your choice of better selections while the stock is complete.

Thursday next is Thanksgiving Day and a legal holiday. We understand all the stores and offices in town will be closed that day. Changing the date from the 14th has made the official announcement just a little bit vague.

Because he chose jail rather than the relief camp, Billy Mitchell hurled stones through two plate glass windows in the butcher shop of Jas. Hatley, M.L.A. at Mackod, and was given a four month's sentence in Lethbridge.

As far as we can learn, the entertainers who were at the 2nd Ward Hall on Wednesday evening, last, had a very small audience to entertain. Most people seemed to think their admission prices of 50c, each were what killed the evening.

AGRICULTURAL ECONOMICS

Economic research for the advancement of agriculture in all its aspects is being carried out over a very wide field by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, the Economics Branch alone having six major research projects under way at the present time. The majority of these studies are being conducted in co-operation with other branches of the Dominion Department with the Provincial Departments of Agriculture, and with the universities. There is the analysis of operating costs of premises in the Prairie Provinces, and another type of marketing research is the analysis of consumer demand for cheese and milk now being made in Quebec City, in Oshawa, Ontario, and in Calgary, Alberta.

Valuable information for housewives, retail stores, restaurants and hotels, as well as for producers and distributors of these products can thus be utilized.

In the St. John Valley of New Brunswick data is being obtained, in co-operation with 200 potato growers, on expenses of production, farm receipts, utilization of land, cropping practices, and organization of farms. At the same time in Western Canada, two land utilization projects are under way, the work being part of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation program. Five hundred farmers in Alberta and 300 farmers in Saskatchewan are co-operating in still two other projects in which crop history, yields, prices and farm receipts, expenses, indebtedness, carrying capacity of grazing land, size of holdings, abandonment and its causes, municipal receipts, expenditures, assessments, tax arrears, and relief expenditures are being analyzed towards the evolution of a policy of land utilization. In Antigonish county, Nova Scotia a similar project in both economic and social problems has already gathered up record from 150 farmers.

Work is progressing nicely on the new homes of Ben. Kenney and A. W. Jones the basements in both cases being finished now.

To pry off an election bet a citizen in Calgary walked around the block in his night shirt following Monday's election. We imagine it seemed like the longest walk he ever took.

The new grades built throughout the Municipality are loose and heavy because of a lack of rain. There has been a great deal of heavy traffic over them too.

"OIL FOR THE LAMPS OF CHINA," the book that raised the veil on the East, with Pat O'Brien and Jean Muir will be at the Capitol next Friday and Saturday. We urge everyone to see this great picture.

In the Fox News Reel on Thursday night at the Capitol Miss Rita Elder was seen at work on her typewriter at the recent Calgary Stampede. This was an unexpected surprise to the audience.

Pres. O. H. Snow returned from Salt Lake City Friday evening of last week, having made to return trip with Bishop W. E. Pitcher and party of Cardston. He reports a very fine Conference and a pleasant trip.

Liberal Landslide Gives King Largest Party Majority Ever In Dominion House

A veritable landslide for Liberal candidates was the total result of Monday's voting, sending to Ottawa 175 Liberal Members the largest number in the history of Canada, and so large, that a part of them will have to sit in the opposition benches as only 148 can be seated on the government side of the house. This will leave a total opposition of 70 against the Government, and this includes Conservatives, Social Credit, Labor and all the rest of them.

Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia both went solid Liberal and the other provinces with the exception of Alberta sent a majority of Liberals to Ottawa. In our own fair province the Social Credit party took fifteen of the seventeen seats, ex-Premier Bennett being elected in Calgary West, and J. McKinnon Liberal in one of the Edmonton seats. The C.C.F. candidates were all defeated, and in most ridings, came out on the small end of the voting. In our own constituency the Reconstruction candidate A. G. was low man in the voting although every candidate except

J. H. Blackmore lost their deposits.

In nearly every poll in the riding Blackmore lead the voting, and in Lethbridge he had a comfortable majority over his nearest competitor Dr. Stewart Conservative, who was second throughout the riding polling 2,935.

Following is the total vote of the candidates:
Blackmore 6,553; Stewart 2,935 Fairbairn, 2,111; Johnson, 711; Virtue, 425.

Blackmore had a majority of 71 over the combined votes of all other contestants. Things were very quiet here in Raymond, but in Lethbridge the victorious Social Credit followers staged a parade about the city winding up at Galt Gardens where an impromptu meeting was held, and the successful candidate addressed the group, pledging himself to work tirelessly for the interest of those who had elected him. Tuesday morning he was in the school room again at his usual work, though in his own words "somewhat befuddled."

A meeting of the Executive of the local Rotary Club was held at the home of L.L. Pack Wednesday evening.

Lydel, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Roberts, has received a call to the Tongan Mission and will be leaving here about the 28th of this month to attend the Missionary School in Salt Lake City. We wish him well on his journey and success in his field of labor.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Roberts returned home Tuesday evening from their trip to Salt Lake City. Their return was delayed somewhat due to the unexpected passing of Mrs. Roberts father, Mr. Cameron, who was eighty years old but who had been quite well until this summer. We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Roberts in her sorrow.

At the home of Mrs. Archie Terry a very enjoyable surprise was held in honor of Mrs. Robt. Webster, who expects to leave in a few days for LeGrand Oregon. 13 or 14 of her friends met to wish her a pleasant journey and presented her with a gift. A delicious lunch was served and everyone joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," which brought a pleasant afternoon to a close.

A Conference between MacKenzie King, Premier of Canada, and the various Provincial Premiers has been slated for November. The definite date has not been announced as yet.

ADVANCE OF BRANDED BEEF

The popularity of beef as food has a much deeper foundation than simply its appeal to the palate. It not only contains many of the elements necessary for the proper growth and development of the human body but it supplements and improves the value of many of the nutrients found in grains and vegetables. In Canada there is another incentive. Canadians have an advantage over some other countries in that they have at their disposal a fine selection of many foods, which, under the mark "Canada Approved" are guaranteed by the Government free from disease. In the case of Government graded beef a step further has been taken. In addition to the "Canada Approved" mark, there is a Government mark or brand of quality in the form of ribbon-like marks running lengthwise of the carcass. A section of this mark appears on every individual cut, and thus the purchaser is assured of receiving the quality paid for. The ed brand marks the best quality, entitled "Choice" and the second quality called "Good" is marked in blue. The gradual spread of this knowledge in our accounts for the steady advance in the sales of Canadian branded beef. The total sales during the month of August 1935 amounted to 3,509,913 pounds bringing the total for the eight months of the year to 27,23,692 pounds or approximately 640,000 pounds more than in the corresponding period of 1934; 6,848,527 pounds more than in 1933; 13,529,389 pounds more than in 1932; and 15,950,128 pounds more than in 1931 when the system was initiated.

The Town Council met in regular session Thursday evening. Present were: Mayor W. G. Meeks, Councilmen G. E. Court I. B. Roberts, Wm. Jensen and S. I. May Sec. O. H. Snow, Solicitor H. Ostlund, Sam Dyson and E. S. Hawk. For about the first time this year there were no delegations present and the Council swung into the business of the meeting.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and accepted and the approximate cost of the proposed new dam three miles south, discussed. Advertising the said project was also decided on, it being necessary to advertise this in the Lethbridge Herald so that all who were affected may see the proposed plan and have a chance to register a protest.

Mrs. Jane D. Collett had applied for the Old Age Pension in full, and the Council endorsed the application.

Two applications for relief were read and turned down, the Council feeling that the parties applying were not entitled to help from Raymond.

The spillway at the dam was discussed, and with the nearness of colder weather, the Council decided to proceed at once with the construction of a plank flume and spillway to protect the dam proper. The building of the new Library Cupboard was given to C. W. Lamb with instructions to proceed at once, and get this additional shelf room into place.

The reports and payroll were read and ordered paid, and a number of broken and worn culverts throughout town were ordered fixed at once.

Street lighting was discussed, there being many complaints regarding the lack of sufficient lights in town. An effort will be made to obtain more lights if arrangements can be made with the Canadian Utilities.

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 p.m., a record for early closing this year.

Charles Asplund had a grain judging club from Cardston in Lethbridge this week. Charles is pushing this work in the Cardston district.

Wheat futures dropped three cents on the Winnipeg market Wednesday. Wonder if the voting Monday had anything to do with this or not.

Cles which act like a corset to the organs. This firm stance keeps the rest of the body from sagging and broadening.

The contour of the face is kept firm by keeping the muscles braced. This is done in two ways; exercise and muscle tightening balsams.

I find blowing at an imaginary feather is an excellent muscle toner. Fill the cheeks with wind and blow outward and upward, as if you were keeping a feather floating in the air. Also an exaggerated chewing motion is good.

But the penetrating, bracing balsams are most effective in keeping these muscles vital and strong to hold up the tissues which make for smooth, youthful contours.

At thirty, the face should be cleansed with a cream which nourishes the tissues also.

THE THIRTIES

I always feel that thirty is the first real milestone a woman passes. It frightens many. But why? At thirty, a woman's real loveliness is just beginning to flower. Through a steadily maturing poise and understanding her attraction is increasing, often quite unknown to herself.

Let us not regret the passing years; let us, instead, look up on them merely as a sort of barometer of our increasing charm and loveliness. At the age of thirty, it is important that a woman resolve to remain young always. This does not call for great effort or strenuous performance of any kind. It is just a state of mind which will be her gentle reminder to keep faithful to her daily beauty regime.

At thirty a woman's attitude indicates whether the years to come will develop her into a beautiful, mature woman, or one with lines and wrinkles, drooping contour, and fleshy, ungraceful body.

There are two danger signals of advancing age; the abdomen and the contour of the face. In the case of both of these, the muscles have been allowed to sag. Now, the abdomen must be held up firmly. Draw in and hold as much as possible in that position to increase the strength of the network of mus-

CONGRATULATIONS TO OUR NEW MEMBER

We extend to our fellow townsman John H. Blackmore, our congratulations in his being elected to represent the Lethbridge Constituency in the Federal House. From a life time acquaintance of the newly elected member we know that we have a man to send to Ottawa who is sincere, thorough, a keen student of conditions, and a man who will give his very best at all times and at all seasons in the interest of his constituents.

John H. Blackmore has risen above physical handicaps that would discourage most of us, and has gained outstanding honors and high respect in the field of teaching, where he has spent so many years of his life. As an educator he has no peers, and few equals in Alberta. He is a man who wins the respect and love of his pupils to such an extent that throughout their life they feel that they have a friend and an adviser in their former teacher. His influence has touched the lives of thousands throughout his church activities for wherever he goes, he is a staunch exponent and advocate of the faith he has espoused and besides being an able exponent in word, his life is a fine reflection of what he believes.

During the provincial campaign during the summer, Mr. Blackmore crusaded over the southern half of the province explaining the objects of Social Credit. In all of this work he made thousands of friends, and so far as we know, not a single enemy for he was always considerate of the other fellow's views and if he failed to gain his point, it never embittered him toward any man and he was big enough to still respect the other man and his difference of opinion.

In his being elected to Ottawa, the people need have no fear but that they will have able representation. As to what is accomplished will depend almost entirely on how our representative goes click with the powers that be. But, we are sure of this fact that if John H. Blackmore falls in achieving his point, it will not be because of not trying nor because of shirking when it takes work to obtain it.

That he has been mentioned for leader of the new group in Ottawa is not surprising. His untiring study of the principles of Social Credit puts him in a position where he can represent this group to its best advantage, and in conversation and debate he can gain a hearing where many others would fail.

John, you have our sincere best wishes, and our hopes for your future. With other members from Alberta you will have a lot of questions to answer and a lot of sarcasm to put us with. Personally we know you will be able to handle your part of the program. We hope the others can do likewise. Raymond and Southern Alberta will be interested in the doings of Ottawa, and will welcome news of your doings. In your going to Ottawa the faith of your friends go with you for as bright a life in politics as you have had in education in Raymond and Southern Alberta.

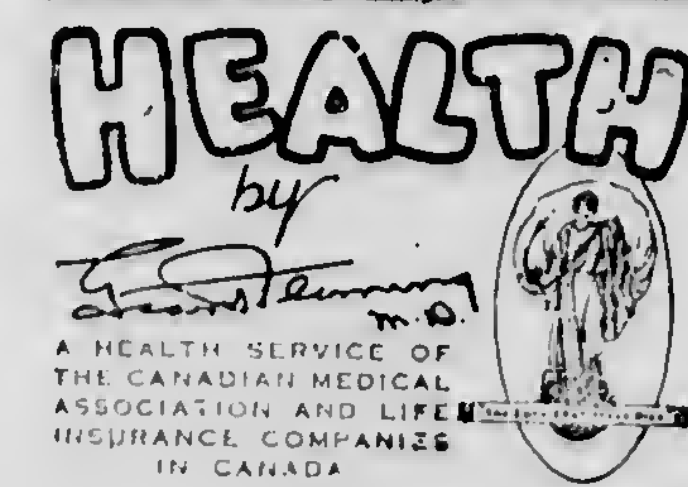

WHAT WILL THE NEW POLICY BE?

Canadians awoke Tuesday morning with a new Government elected to office and they were naturally, asking themselves the question, "What will be the attitude of the new administration of Premier King to the recent legislation of Premier Bennett and his Government?" Meeting the charges of election bribes and propaganda, with the statement that the legislation could not have been passed before because of the necessity of preparatory work with respect to many of the recent acts passed, the Bennett administration passed on a number of matters that seem to have much of merit in them. We mention the Wheat Board, the Water Conservation Plan, and numerous other acts, amongst them being the Farmer-Creditor Arrangement which has saved hundreds of farmers in Canada the embarrassment of being moved off their farms, because of being unable to meet their promised payments. And, while other parties claim praise for urging these measures and almost demanding their passing, still they were put on the statute books by the Bennett Government.

Now, people are wondering what the program of the King administration will be in order to maintain and improve the present bettered conditions. Liberals have always been advocates of free trade. There is no question but what much can be done in this respect, and yet, any government must need move cautiously, lest the opening of the doors allow an influx of products that will paralyze the efforts of Canada's farmers, stock men, etc., to be self-supporting and to build up our country. There is a point beyond which no government can go in free trade and still lend to Canadian industries and capital the impetus and encouragement needed to build up our young and growing country.

Canada's problems are many and vital. A voting citizenry has decided to hand the reins of Government to a Liberal house. During the campaign Mr. King has made a number of sweeping promises. Some of these can be fulfilled by application and hard work. If world conditions continue favorable, many of them will be fulfilled in the natural course of events, without any effort on the part of the Government in power. Others, as with the last administration will be as far from fulfillment when Canada again goes to the polls as they are right now. The habit of promise making is coming to be looked upon as so much talk, to be forgotten as soon as the election is over. This has been largely the case in the past. A government that would conscientiously work to fulfill its solemn promises to the electors, would be a government that would make history. Our Liberal administration may be such a Government. Here's hoping so.

Congratulations to the Hon. Mackenzie King, Canada's new Premier. We wish him well in every endeavor that will be for the benefit and advancement of the people of Canada as a whole, and not for any select few people or corner of the Dominion.

It was in 1470 that William Caxton set up his first printing press in England. Years passed before any considerable part of the population were able to read, nevertheless, we may consider this date as marking the time when the eyes of man, which had hitherto been used chiefly for distant vision, were diverted to close work-reading.

No one discovery has had as great an influence upon human progress as has the printing-press. The eye is the window, not only to the world of nature, but to the knowledge of the ages as conveyed by the

During our waking hours, we make almost constant use of our eyes. The eye muscles, called muscles of accommodation because their action enables the eye to focus on things near or far, are in steady use. The suggestion that you can throw away your glasses and, through exercise of these muscles of accommodation correct the errors of refraction for which the glasses are worn, is absurd. Muscles which are used regularly are not strengthened by further use, under the name of "exercise."

Poor eyesight is a real handicap. It is surprising how many persons, of all ages and both sexes, suffer in one way or another without suspecting that their poor eyesight is the real cause of their trouble.

The difficulties which some children experience in school arise out of their inability to see clearly and to read or study in comfort. Wherever there is a school health service the eyes of the children are examined from time to time. Where there is no such service, parents would be well advised to have their children of school age examined by their family doctor.

Poor eyesight, which means eye-strain, is perhaps the most common cause of headaches. Dizziness irritability and sleeplessness may arise from the same cause. Those who wear glasses may suffer from eye-strain if their glasses are old. The eyes alter, and so the glasses need to be changed from time to time. Rubbing the eyes is a bad habit. It is just part of the general bad habit of putting the hands to the face. The hands should be kept away from the face because the fingers are so apt to be soiled, and if, for example the eyes are rubbed with soiled fingers infection may result. For much the same reason the use of individual towels is desirable. The common towel is not as dangerous as the common drinking-cup, but it is a factor in spreading disease as its use does endanger the eyes. The common towel, whether it be called roller or something else, should be abolished.

WEEKLY LETTER

Suggestions to Lamb Feeders

It is difficult, if not impossible, to lay down rules for the feeding of lambs, for as in all types of live stock feeding a very important factor to any outstanding success is the skill of the individual operator, the "feeder's eye." On the other hand there are a number of points which experience shows to be more or less fundamental and for the benefit of the beginner in lamb-feeding the writer of this letter is offering a few suggestions gleaned from the results of eighteen years of lamb feeding at this Station.

First a word of encouragement regarding financial returns. Over a period of eighteen years, lamb feeding at this Station has proven itself to be a profitable undertaking. There have, of course, been years of losses, but these have been more than counterbalanced by the good years leaving a satisfactory profit for labour and capital invested in the venture.

As the market requires a smooth, well-finished lamb at 90 to 100 pounds live weight and places a heavy price penalty on overweight lambs, it is well to keep in mind right from the start what the finished product must be. If heavy, growthy lambs are on hand at the beginning of the feeding period it is essential that they be gotten on to a full feed of heavy concentrates just as soon as possible in order to make sure that they are satisfactorily finished by the time they reach the market weight. If a start is made with smaller lambs, it may be possible to use up some coarse feed while growing the lambs out. This is often, however, a procedure of questionable value and one which certainly requires some skill. The safest plan is usually to buy the lambs early off the range and put them right on feed.

Particular care is always taken at this Station in starting the lambs. While oats promote too much growth to constitute a satisfactory finishing ration it has been found to be the most satisfactory starting grain. For the first few days in the feed lot the grain allowance is limited to 2-3 ounces per lamb and the amount is not increased until all the lambs have learned to eat it. After that the grain is increased gradually, but if a rapid finish is desired the rate of increase is as rapid as the lambs will accept. Although a small amount of oats, not more than one-third of the grain ration, may be fed throughout the feeding period, it is quite safe to gradually replace part of the oats with heavier grains until the oats are completely eliminated after 6 to 8 weeks. A mixture of grains is often more satisfactory than a single grain as a mixture provides more variety and so increases palatability. This is particularly true of rye which is unpalatable to, and causes digestive disturbances in lambs if fed as the sole grain. Trials conducted at this Station indicate that it is both uneconomical and detrimental to the health of the lambs to feed a ground grain ration. The maximum grain feed per day, when hand fed, has been found to be about two pounds.

A rule of thumb which may be of value to the prospective feeder who is wondering how many lambs he can finish with the feed on hand is that roughly 150 pounds of grain and twice that amount of hay should be available for each lamb going into the feed lot.

It is very important that lamb consuming large amounts of dry feed have an ample supply of good clean water. Salt should always be fed liberally and at this Station is fed in a trough raised off the ground so that it will not become dirty.

In practically every case, no matter what the number of lambs on feed, it will be found quite profitable to pay very close attention to the lambs as they finish and sell in two or more drafts. In this way the top price can be obtained by reducing to a minimum the number of unfinished and overweight lambs sold.

Alonzo Holland of Cardston is here for a few days visiting with his son Dean.

N. E. Tanner, M.P.P. for Cardston Constituency, and W. Burt Cardston were Raymond visitors Tuesday last.

Miss E. Walscott has just returned from a two week's vacation. She said Raymond looked awfully good to her when she came back.

T. K. Roberts, R. W. Tolles-trup, S. C. N. Grey and John Ralph were Deputy Returning Officers for the voting here Monday. 583 votes were cast.

Next Tuesday will be Thanks giving Day in Canada, it being originally scheduled for October 14th, but being changed for the Dominion election on that date.

Commenting on Monday's election British newspapers state that while the details may not be clear to them it is certain it stands for greater freedom of trade and more democracy throughout our Dominion.

The Ginger Group at Ottawa was swept out Monday as unceremoniously as they were swept in 1921. All of them fell victims to the balloting in favour of Social Credit Candidates.

The Hon. H. H. Stevens must have wondered just what was wrong when he was the only Reconstruction candidate to be elected. Candidates stood in a large number of ridings but every one of them failed to get the necessary majority.

Work is progressing rapidly in the new Gas Station of S.B. Card at the north end of Broadway. The pump has been serving gas for more than a week past, and the station house is nearly completed now.

mering "Cellophane," which looks as well when the light is turned off as when it is turned on.

The "Diana" shade is ten inches in diameter and is made on a wire frame. Materials needed are the frame, a roll of "Cellophane," some colored silk or crepe paper, a few gummed red blue or gold stars or similar stars or cut outs here & there on the paper. You may prefer to leave the silk plain, if this material is used. An interesting effect may be obtained by pleat-ing the silk as it is attached to the frame.

It is now ready for the "Cellophane," which is applied in overlapping strips. The roll of this material is cut into one-inch wide strips which are folded in half. The long strips are then wound up over, down and up again on the frame, covering the inside and outside surfaces of the frame. The strips should overlap their width by about half until the entire frame is covered. The ends of each strip may be secured with mucilage to the end of the next strip.

When the frame is entirely covered, bind the top and bottom rings with silk or velvet ribbon which may be glued or sewn in place. By using contrasting colors beautiful shades may be made by this method. The "Cellophane" may be obtained from your stationery store.

STANDARD POULTRY BOXES

Hardwood of any kind is not suitable for standard dressed poultry boxes. According to the Canadian Standards, lumber used for making these boxes must be a sound, clear dry quality of soft wood planed smooth on both sides free from knots, and square, straight-edge stock but not tongued or grooved. When boxes are made up, there are five essential points; (1) each side and end must be in one piece and be square cut, (2) tops and bottoms must be flush with and fit flush over both sides.
(3) an allowance must be made for a small space, of not more than a sixteenth of an inch, between the boards on top and bottom of the box to assist quick sharp freezing when placed in storage, (4) the bottoms and tops should be in at least three pieces, and (5) wide boards should be used as outside boards in both tops and bottoms.
The nails used should only be long enough and strong enough to give the necessary strength
so that the weight of poultry contained in the box may be shipped in safety. In packing, strict observance should be paid to the allowance variation in weight in birds packed in the same box—squab and broiling chickens not over 1/4 pound per bird; all other chickens and fowl not over 1/2 pound; turkeys and geese not more than 3 pounds. It is recommended that this individual variation of turkeys and geese be limited to two pounds. The weight variation for ducks packed in the same box is one pound per bird.
